

LOTTERIES OF HOT SEX KEEPS ME CURVY!

Singer's saucy keep-fit secret

SEXY Charlotte Church has revealed the saucy secret of her amazing curves – plenty of action between the sheets with Gavin Henson.

The 19-year-old singer says regular romps with her rugby ace boyfriend, 23, are the only exercise sessions she gets.

Charlotte has tried to tone up her figure by going to the gym with Gavin, but says she soon gets bored and would rather sneak off for a bacon sarnie.

The shapely star said: "I don't feel like I'm a role model, but in terms of my weight I'm a size 10 to 12 – bordering on 12 nowadays. The reason is that I'm happy with my relationship with Gavin."

"Happiness with my fella gets me piling on the pounds. I'm really happy with myself and as soon as I'm not then I'll change – but not for anyone else."

"I have tried the gym. I tried to start going with Gavin, but it's just so hard."

"I was like: 'No, I just want a bacon sandwich!'"

But she tells chat show

■ by PETER DYKE

king Michael Parkinson, 70, on ITV1 tonight that there is one saucy type of exercise she loves – jumping into bed with Gavin.

She said: "Whenever I go away, all I want to do is come home to Wales. I just want to be at home in my own bed with Gavin."

But she says they have no immediate plans to get hitched.

Charlotte said: "I think it's a bit too soon. I don't want to get married too young."

Next Saturday, Parky is expecting record-breaking ratings for his show after landing the chat everyone wanted – with Queen of Pop Madonna, 47.

DON'T PEPPER OUR CHIPS WITH SALT

CHIP shops are serving so much salt they are putting customers' health at risk.

The amount on just a small portion of chips is more than half the recommended daily intake.

Researchers from Hampshire County Council checked 78 shops and sent the chips for analysis.

The lowest recorded level was 0.12 grams on a small portion, but the highest was 3.61 grams – the equivalent of six bags of salt and vinegar crisps.

■ by DAVE HOLT

Denise Thomas, chief dietician for Portsmouth Hospitals NHS Trust, said: "That is incredibly high."

Strokes

Health experts advise no more than six grams – a teaspoonful – of salt a day, and less for children.

High salt intake can cause high blood pressure which might lead to heart attacks and strokes.

LIPS OF GOD

Maradona's kiss-off

by IAIN BURCHELL

HOLLYWOOD hellraiser Colin Farrell got a smacker from a REAL legend when he puckered up to Argentinian footie cheat Diego Maradona in a Buenos Aires bar. However, the pair seemed to be getting a bit too close for comfort by the end of the night when they moved in for a smooch.

CHEAT: Infamous handball

Movie hunk Colin, 29, stopped off in Argentina on his way to Uruguay where he is filming the new Miami Vice movie. He was delighted to meet up with fallen idol Maradona, 45, whose notorious Hand of God goal helped dump England out of the 1986 World Cup.

Maradona even presented the Alexander star with an Argentina No10 shirt with his name on the back.

An onlooker said: "Colin and Maradona both have a reputation for knowing how to party. "It looked like they were pleased to see each other but maybe they didn't need to go quite so far to show it."

MOTT

FORMER Sex Pistols drummer Paul Cook, 49, has found himself some gainful employment at last. He's teamed up with Def Leppard guitarist Phil Collen, 47, to form an intriguing new three piece outfit Man-Raze.

SHOT

DAZZLING diva Toni Braxton has got Kiss Awards organisers in a spin. She is demanding organisers fly over her LA-based throat specialist for her stay in London. The inaugural Kiss Awards take place tonight at the Excel Centre in London and there are still tickets left, if you hurry.

JOE MOTT'S AWARD WINNING HOT

I'VE unravelled the mystery of Kate Bush's new album cover. You will of course remember Aerial features a depiction of a soundwave. Well, I've sent the artwork to a team of crack scientists and have discovered the wave is in fact a depiction of blackbird song. Good eh? Now, go and buy it when it comes out on Monday.

Magic up a Harry hit

JARV'S POTTER GOLD

JARVIS Cocker's offering to the new Harry Potter soundtrack is a sure-fire Crimbo No.1 - but record chiefs won't release it.

The former Pulp frontman, 42, has recorded three tracks for Harry Potter And The Goblet Of Fire with Radiohead drummer Phil Selway, 38, and guitarist Jonny Greenwood, 34.

Do The Hippogriff is the best of the bunch. In fact it's preposterously brilliant.

That's why I'm starting a campaign today to get it into the charts in time for the festive season. It's a guaranteed floor-filling glam rock stomper - a little like The Time from The Rocky Horror Picture Show.

A hippogriff, as if you didn't know, is a flying half-horse, half-eagle creature that saves Harry's Godfather Sirius Black.

Joyful

Jarvis, inset above, shouts himself hoarse while urging listeners to "dance like a hippogriff".

It's a joyful, ridiculous track that I reckon will find huge favour among Harry's legions of young fans. It starts with Jarvis shrieking: "I want to see your hands in the air/We're gonna teach you a brand new dance tonight."

He then sings: "Spin round like a crazy elf dancing by himself/Boogie down like a unicorn and don't stop until the break of dawn/Put your hands up in the air like an ogre, just don't care."

The chorus is a sing-a-long classic too, with Jarvis asking: "Can you dance like the hippogriff - ma ma ma ma ma?"

It deserves to be massive - and will be, given a chance.

So, Warner Bros. get your act together and put it out.

ATHLETE Hammersmith Apollo, London

YOU can't argue with Athlete's live set as the Deptford-born four-piece sounded every bit as sharp as they do on their No.1 album Tourist.

The backdrop of psychedelic visuals, spinning glitter balls and roving A-Z maps added a sharp visual edge to their fluff.

brand of catchy indie pop. Stand-out tracks included Wires, Tourist and Half Light.

But You Got The Style was the highlight of the night, thanks to a row of Bond-style dancers projected high above the stage.

PHIL BOUCHER

CAUGHT LIVE

TEST ICICLES LSE, London

SHARING a label with Franz Ferdinand and Arctic Monkeys means that great things are expected of the "hilariously" named Test Icicles.

Sadly, great things didn't materialise.

In the studio the three-piece make a brilliantly bonkers mash-up of metal, punk and hip-hop. Live, though, things descended into farce.

It didn't help that their drum machine decided to pack up early. Neither did the fact the band looked like they'd drunk too much cheap lager.

A load of b*cks, if you'll excuse the pun.

DAN WALSH

Bourne to be wild

PEEVED Son Of Dork frontman James Bourne really hasn't got over that Busted split.

While 20-year-old Charlie Simpson goes about his business with dignity in rather good emo band Fightstar, Bourne has chosen to attack his former pal on album track Boyband.

Chuckhead Bourne, 22, sings: "There's the kid who blew it all, sat next to him at school, everyone thought he was cool ... 'til he quit his job."

The woeful ditty goes on to describe how difficult it is to be in a boyband and how people hate you for your success.

It neglects to mention, though, that being in a boyband also makes you fabulously wealthy and gives you opportunities to experience things most mortals would never, ever do in their lifetime.

Oh, and by the way, it sounds almost identical to Busted's breakthrough hit, What I Go To School For.

Lord help us all.

JUSTIN'S IN A CAT FLAP

WOE is me. Justin Hawkins has ditched his catsuit.

However it's quite clear The Darkness frontman, 30, is still, thankfully, almost entirely devoid of any dress sense. Just check out that T-shirt and belt combo, right.

My favourite rockers were performing new single One Way Ticket on 2D UK today - introducing new bassist Richie Edwards, 31. It's great to have them back in business.

DEAD...THE GIRL DOCS SAID WAS MOLLYCODDLED

TEENAGER Laura Seward died of deep vein thrombosis after medics ordered her worried mum: "Stop mollycoddling her."

The 18-year-old fell ill with blood clots after a four-and-a-half-hour flight home from a two-week holiday on Gran Canaria.

She had trouble breathing, walking and started being sick. But when mum Amanda, 38, took her to their local health centre medics told them Laura simply had a throat infection.

Collapsed

She was sent home with antibiotics but her condition worsened and her mum took her back to the surgery five days later.

This time Laura was seen by a nurse who said there was nothing wrong with her. She said the teen was just having panic attacks and told her to try breathing into a bag to stop them.

The nurse also accused her mum of "mollycoddling" her.

Just hours later care assistant Laura collapsed at the family home in

by JERRY LAWTON

Goldthorpe, near Barnsley, South Yorks. She was pronounced dead on arrival at hospital.

A post-mortem examination revealed she'd had a heart defect and developed blood-clots which may have been triggered by her holiday flights.

Angry mum Amanda last night blasted medics for failing to spot her daughter's condition and save her life.

She said: "The nurse told me to stop 'mollycoddling' her and she would be OK. You don't question these things because you put your faith in doctors and nurses."

"I want to know why we were fobbed off the first time we went to the surgery and why we couldn't see a doctor the second time when Laura's symptoms were even worse."

"I believe that if she had been given thorough examinations the problem could have been detected earlier and she might be alive today."

A spokesman for her local health centre said he could not comment on the case but said the matter would be taken up with Laura's family.

STARFORM

Dot looks a blot on handicap

by Tony Lewis

TARANDOT (3.35) can take advantage of some lenient handicapping to land the last big betting heat of the turf season at Doncaster today.

It's hardly the ideal way to bring the curtain down – a large field of “C-list” handicappers slogging their way through ground that always seems to resemble a paddy field at this time of year.

But Tarandot, likely to start at decent odds, has all the attributes to end trainer George Margaron's campaign on a high.

She's in form, likes the ground, stays further and she's not been hammered for her 50-1 success in a listed race run in a mud-bath at Yarmouth last time.

You could say that beating 102-rated filly Autumn Wealth was a fluke, but there were five others in the race rated higher and one piece of form in the summer confirms she is indeed the type to be improving rapidly.

Upped

When she was a close third to Art Eyes at Leicester in July, it looked a moderate contest.

But Art Eyes (who was rated 6lb lower on weight-for-age) has since come out and won a Newmarket listed race by five lengths. Runner-up Sirce, getting lumps of weight, has also franked the form along with the fourth Tcherina.

Tarandot has been upped just 5lb to a mark of just 93 for her latest win and, bearing in mind how well “fillies in form” tend to perform in the autumn, I reckon she will take all the beating.

Sirce's draw hasn't been too kind. So Let's Roll, Group Captain and Ebtikaar will provide the main threats.

TAR VERY MUCH: Tarandot, a 50-1 winner at Yarmouth, can do the business again at Doncaster

Ouija's full of eastern promise...

OUIJA BOARD looks likely to take up her invitation for the Japan Cup in Tokyo on November 27.

Ed Dunlop's exceptional filly returned to Newmarket safely after narrowly failing to record back-to-back successes in the Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Turf at Belmont Park last Saturday. Ouija Board has been restricted to just three starts this season through injury, but as long as she remains in good heart, her trainer is tempted by a trip to the Far East.

"She seems very well and arrived back in England on Monday," said Dunlop. "I am happy with her condition and she seems fresh and well."

"As long as she remains in good condition, we are going to accept the invitation to go to Japan."

"We will see how she is over the next fortnight - I think the day she has to fly there is November 16."

"The ground will be quicker in Japan and, as she likes decent ground, it will be more favourable than at Belmont."

Exciting

"It's also over a mile and a half, which should suit, although she'll have to run against colts."

"I've never been there before so although it is very exciting, I can't say for sure whether Japan will suit her."

Longer term plans have not been made for the dual Oaks-winner, who could run at the Hong Kong International meeting on December 11 and may even stay in training as a five-year-old.

"She's been invited to Hong Kong and we'll consider it but it depends on Japan and what happens there," added Dunlop.

"We've not decided if she will stay in training next season."

Banned pair to appeal

TIMMY MURPHY and Henrietta Knight have lodged an appeal against their respective ban and fine.

Murphy was given a 14-day ban over the running and riding of Harringay at Towcester on Thursday.

And Knight, who trains Harringay, was fined £1,000.

The stewards ruled the mare had been "tenderly ridden" in the two-and-a-half-mile hurdle, the 9-4 shot finishing fifth, beaten 13 and a half lengths.

Choking

"The horse has breathing problems and was choking and I did what I thought was best," said Murphy.

Murphy's ban runs from November 14-27, ruling him out of the Belfair Chase at Haydock as well as the Hennessy meeting at Newbury.

Harringay is banned from running between November 8 to December 17 inclusive.

AS GOOD AS

Stoute to bow out in style

EXCLUSIVE

EDDERY

SIR Michael Stoute can round off a cracking season by landing the spoils with ASAWER (3.00, Ch4) at Doncaster this afternoon.

The curtain is coming down on a highly-successful Flat campaign for the master of Freemason Lodge who can rightly be proud of the way in which his stable has performed.

Sir Michael has been involved in a season-long battle with Aidan O'Brien in the chase to top the trainers' prize money table.

And, whatever the outcome of that contest, he can look back on a season in which his yard has consistently been sending out winners in a way that once again marks him out as a superb trainer.

And I'm expecting Asawer to become the latest Stoute-trained horse to land the spoils when he contests the totocoop EBf Gillies Fillies' Stakes. Asawer was a creditable third to Ouija Board at Newmarket in a Group 3 in September - a race in which the three-year-old filly performed really well.

She was always chasing the Frankie Dettori-ridden Ouija Board but couldn't land a serious blow to the eventual winner.

She also came third last time out, again at Newmarket, three weeks ago in a Listed race over one mile two furlongs. She ran a gutsy race but gave the impression she would be better at a longer distance. So this extra half-a-furlong should suit.

Her form looks solid and I have no hesitation in pointing Starform readers in her direction.

The toteport November Handicap is the last big betting race of the Flat season as the big boys of the jumps world move in to have the centre stage. It's the kind of race in which plenty of stamina is required to get the one-and-a-half-mile distance in what is certain to be slow going.

And that's why my vote goes to TARANDOT (3.35) who has the credentials to lead them all home.

For, apart from the need to be able to last the distance, the ideal horse for this kind of contest is one who traditionally comes good at the time of the year.

Deep

Quite a lot of horses have already trained off by now but four-year-old Tarandot certainly hasn't as she showed in her last outing.

That was at Yarmouth 11 days ago in a Listed race for fillies over one mile six furlongs in which she really ran a cracker.

She dug deep under maximum pressure and showed she loves deep ground by gaining a neck success over Autumn Wealth.

In the other televised race from the Yorkshire track, I like the look of the Richard Hannon-trained PRESTO SHINKO (2.25).

Richard Hughes will be on board this four-year-old in a six-furlong sprint which I believe can bring Presto Shinko a fourth straight success.

Presto Shinko's latest win came in the competitive Ayr Gold Cup in September.

Incidentally, I just can't wait to saddle my first runner as a trainer.

I hope to send out our first horse on the all-weather in the next month or so.

We have excellent facilities and have a fair mix of four-year-olds, three-year-olds, maidens and plenty of yearlings for next season.

Our seven furlong all-weather gallop is the same surface as Lingfield.

Captain marvel

GROUP CAN LAND COUP

THE Flat turf season comes to and end like a damp squib at Doncaster this afternoon.

Why the curtain doesn't come down on Champions day at Newmarket is a mystery which would tax the little grey cells of Hercule Poirot.

If you have the answer, please forward them on a post card to the BHB.

After years of searching for a clever name to give the final big betting race of the season, the Donny executive have come up with the crafty and cunning title the November Handicap (3.35) which is run over a mile-and-a-half.

The three-year-olds have held sway in the past 15 years with nine winners coming from the classic generation.

This helps whittle down the field and when you take into account only three horses in the past decade have carried over 9st, we can really start to narrow down the likely winners.

My mole at John Dunlop's assures me Ebtikaar is in great form at home, but I just wonder if the terrain might be a bit tacky for this son of Darshaan.

He was beaten by GROUP CAPTAIN earlier in the season at Glorious Goodwood, and I was impressed by the way Sylvester Kirk's creature ploughed through the mud to score over course and distance at the last meeting off of 86.

Our old friend, the assessor, has given the son of Dr Fong a good chance of following up by only raising him 4lb to a new rating of 90.

We get weird and wonderful results at this time of year on the Flat, so a small win wager is the order of the day.

Dunlop may have better fortune with the progressive THE NAWAB (1.20) in the Stratstone Land Rover Handicap over an extended two miles.

This three-year-old showed plenty of courage to reel in Dr Sharp under very testing conditions at York last month over two and a half miles.

Before that, the horse had obliged at Goodwood over today's trip and he looks a good bet to complete his hat-trick off a 7lb higher mark than last time.

Word from Arundel is that The Nawab remains in great fettle.

For us jumping enthusiasts, there is a fascinating clash at in the James Nicholson Wine Merchant Champion Chase (2.40) at Down Royal between the new kid on the block, War Of Attrition, and the enigmatic BEEF OR SALMON.

There were plenty of misguided souls who wanted to back WOA after he beat a patently unfit Kicking King over two miles and six furlongs on good ground at Punchestown last month.

But that form is as reliable as a second hand condom.

The ground will be a lot softer in Northern Ireland than WOA prefers.

And Mouse Morris's beast has yet to win over this trip, be it hurdles or jumps.

BOS captured this event last November, having warmed up with a spin up at Limerick a month before.

Michael Hourigan gave his stable star a breeze up on the Flat at The Curragh in mid-October to have him cherry ripe for this.

And I will be having a good bet on Beef Or Salmon to see off the young pretender.

We can watch the action unravel on Channel 4.

Down amongst all the carrot crunchers at Wincanton, local hero Paul Nicholls can land the Totesport Elite Handicap (3.50) over two miles with SPORAZENE.

The former winner of the County Hurdle at the Cheltenham Festival has been whinging up the Ditchat slopes, and the great Ruby Walsh is in the plate The Grey has been off a year but should lack nothing in fitness.

LEAP OF FAITH: Beef Or Salmon gets The Couch's vote to follow up last year's win

CARTE UP FOR IT

BRIAN ELLISON has not ruled out the possibility of Carte Diamond competing in next year's Melbourne Cup.

The four-year-old was unable to take part in the two-mile feature at Flemington on Tuesday - won for a third time by Makyebe Diva - after he sustained a terrible injury a week before the race.

Carte Diamond was rounding a bend during exercise when jockey Weichong Marwing slipped and fell off.

The colt continued galloping and crashed into the rail at the top of the straight, spearing one of his hindquarters through a metal stake in the process.

"He's very lucky to be alive," said Ellison.

"He's going to stay in Australian for the summer and if he comes right he we'll have a few races first and hopefully go back out for the Melbourne Cup."

AGGRESSION & MADNESS

A good poker player knows the difference between aggression and madness. You'll see lots of madness in evidence during the "play money" games online but aggression during "real money" games is a more controlled activity. The very best aggressive players are never shy about folding when they know the time is right.

KNOW WHEN TO FOLD

You have to learn to "know" when you're beaten and be prepared to fold even if you're all the way down to the river. Why? Because if all the signals are telling you that your opponent really does have the goods, wasting that large final bet is bad poker in exactly the same way as not placing an extra large, final bet at the river when you have a premium hand is bad poker. Know when to extract value and when you are chasing a lost cause.

YOUR TUTORIAL

PROBLEM A: Imagine that you are on the button with a pair of Jacks. The pot gets raised three times the big blind directly in front of you. With just ten times the big blind in chip value you are short stacked. Should you?

- 1) Call the raise.
- 2) Double the raise.
- 3) Toss away your cards.
- 4) Grit your teeth and go all-in.

PROBLEM B: You're in a major tournament with a handful of players remaining and you're the chip leader. You're holding Ace of Spades and Jack of Spades. You decide to raise six times the big blind, causing everyone to fold except the big blind. He goes all-in with ten times the big blind bet. You have to decide: do you call ten times the big blind to attempt to win twenty two times the big blind, or do you fold? What's the percentage play?

TUTORIAL ANSWERS

PROBLEM A: The answer is D: you go all-in! You're facing a raise and you're short stacked. By going all-in your re-raise should be powerful enough to drive out all the less than stellar hands. Likely outcome is a heads up with the first raiser. It's a value bet.

PROBLEM B: The correct percentage play is to call. As the chip leader you are well placed to flush out opposing players in late tournament play. It's likely your Ace and Jack of Spades will hold up well unless a remaining opponent is holding, Ace-Queen, Ace-King or Ace-Ace. Again it's the value bet. The odds are with you at ten times the big blind.
